[8th December 1961

29th June 1961, the Union representatives expressed a desire for a personal discussion in the matter. In pursuance of this, they were heard in person by the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Traffic and Licensing on 21st July 1961.

All possible efforts were taken to avert the strike and the Union representatives were advised by the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Traffic and Licensing not to resort to a strike, but they were adamant and did not heed the advice given.

Necessary precautionary measures were, therefore, taken to prevent any untoward incident during the strike. Wide publicity was also given in the Press with regard to transport arrangements made at the Egmore and Central Railway stations and elsewhere for convenience of the public.
